CHICAGO (March 28, 2018)—The heart of Loyola Ramblers fandom, Chicago's north side Rogers Park neighborhood, is celebrating the team's history-making NCAA Final Four berth with dozens of celebrations and viewing parties this Saturday, March 31 and Sunday, April 1. Rogers Park restaurants and bars near the Loyola campus will be offering food and drink specials to students and Ramblers fans from across the city, keeping the celebrations going strong all weekend for Sister Jean's favorite team.

The New 400 Theater (6746 N. Sheridan Road) will host a free public viewing party of the Loyola vs. Michigan game on its big screens Saturday, March 31, in two theaters opening at 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

"Everyone in Rogers Park is overjoyed for our Final Four team, the Loyola Ramblers!" says Rogers Park Business Alliance Executive Director Sandi Price. "There's no better place to watch Saturday's game than inside one of the friendly restaurants and bars near the Loyola campus. The excitement and energy are just unmatched here. Everyone is an honorary Rambler in Rogers Park this weekend!"
