Rogers Park and five other north side neighborhoods announce diverse community eateries participating in annual North Side Restaurant Week

For the third year, Rogers Park Business Alliance and other north side business organizations come together to highlight an array of flavors spanning the globe

CHICAGO (February 10, 2026) – The nonprofit Rogers Park Business Alliance and four north side business organizations are proud to announce the participating restaurants in the third annual North Side Restaurant Week, running February 26 through March 8, 2026. The Albany Park, Edgewater, Lincoln Square Ravenswood, and Northcenter Chambers of Commerce join the Rogers Park Business Alliance to organize this year’s North Side Restaurant Week. More information on all six neighborhoods’ offerings is available at northsiderestaurantweek.org. No tickets necessary.

A variety of north side eateries will offer exclusive fixed-price menus for breakfast, lunch, and dinner that highlight each restaurant’s cuisine. These restaurants offer flavors spanning the globe – from African/Afro-Caribbean, Asian, French, and Italian to Middle Eastern/Mediterranean, Mexican, and American classics.

“Now more than ever, it is important for us to celebrate and support the variety of cultures and cuisines that are staples throughout the north side communities,” said Sandi Price, Executive Director of Rogers Park Business Alliance. “We invite Chicagoans from every corner of the city to explore the north side and see why local communities cherish these one-of-a-kind eateries.”
